

There is not only a harassment in telemarketing freedom but a literal danger to consumers each time their privacy is compromised. New Jersey has been pro active in this issue with our no call law. This must not be tampered with or rescinded, rather it should become a model for the nation.